The latest round of the Alpine Bikes sponsored Wheelers Winter League found the riders facing a typically tricky course set by Ben Miller, aided and abetted by his father, Nigel. Ewan Thorburn revelled in the slippery conditions to come home first in front of Ben, with Ben Thompson taking third place. The ladies struggled with navigation around the course leaving the judges in a predicament about who actually won.

A number of riders (including Sam, Lachlan, Gary, Neil and Mairi) were enjoying themselves so much that they added extra sections to the course, but they all did manage to get back on track and complete the whole event. Thanks to Ben, Nigel and Jeanette Miller for all of their hard work. The next round will be at Wolftrax on the 4th March.
