

WEST HIGHLAND WHEELERS

WINTER LEAGUE

ROUND 7 - FEARNOCH

West Highland Wheelers joined up with North Argyll Cycle Club for their next round of the Winter League. True to form, NACC set a fast, undulating course in the glorious sunshine at Fearnoch. Local knowledge obviously paid off as the NACC riders took the first five places. Tom Smith dusted off the rust from his gears to lead out the field with Tom Wilding in second and Mike Bossard third on his single speed. Brych Hensman-Martin continued to rise up the field to take seventh place and first junior overall, ahead of a heavily-perspiring Steve Bradley. Marian Austin was the first lady home, despite finding that tubeless tyres can still suffer from punctures. Two more rounds to go with Stephen Dent and Marie Meldrum currently leading their respective points tables. Thanks to Nick Charlton and the NACC team.
