The traditional West Highland Wheelers Xmas handicap took place in Glen Nevis on a very wet Sunday. Cory Muir, taking to his cyclo-cross bike, proved to be too quick to be caught and so won his first senior event. Dad Gregor just managed to hang onto his back wheel to take second place. In the clash of the Titans, Joe Barnes finished in third with a fast-closing Liam Moynihan in fifth, Stephen Cant sandwiched between them in a fine fourth. Fiona Beattie did exceptionally well on her shopping bike to be first lady home ahead of Mairi Meldrum. Proving that all is fair in love and war, Hannah Barnes outsprinted her Mum at the finish line – no extra helpings of Xmas pud this year for Hannah! Next outing for the Wheelers is on the 28th Dec at Nevis Range.
