The latest round of the Nevis Cycles sponsored Wheelers Winter League found the riders facing a new format devised by Steve Bradley. After 50 minutes of racing around a short lap, the leader passing the finish triggered the start of everyone's final lap. Four riders completed 5 laps with Ben Miller taking first place, a minute in front of Gary Macdonald. Most of the field got 4 laps in with Fiona Beattie taking an early lead in the Ladies Series with a fine ride. Cory Muir pipped his Dad to the line to become the first junior home. All the participants liked the fact that you could improve each time you took on a new lap and it made good viewing for the spectators. Thanks to Steve Bradley, Alastair MacLennan and Colleen Foggo for helping to organise a great event.

Next Winter league event is on the 30th Dec from Nevis Range car park with the non-competitive Xmas handicap scheduled for Dec 23rd in Glen Nevis, potentially the only time that this event has run since 2009 due to snow and ice.
