The fourth round of the Nevis Cycles sponsored Wheelers Winter League found the riders heading for Glen Loy. Colleen and Andrew Foggo had set a course with a mix of long climbs and rooty, singletrack descents. Joe Barnes was a massive 4 minutes ahead of everyone else and clearly enjoyed the conditions. Gary Macdonald and Stephen Dent took a fine second and third place respectively. Fiona Beattie was the first lady home after a strong ride. Lower down the field, there were several interesting battles between some of the participants. John Macrae suffered from an early puncture but fought back after a repair, even with a one inch tear in his tyre. Thanks to Colleen and Andrew for hosting the event and to Ruari Watt of the Forestry Commission.

Next event is the popular route down at Inchree, with the start being at 11:00 on 10th February.
